Project Narrative/Methodology

- 1) Describe a) your organization work in the disability community; b) list active board members & their organizational role & describe how often your board meets; c) provide a list of grants received in the past 3 calendar years (2019, 2018, 2017).

With emphasis on acceptance, respect & inclusion, Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) operates under the assumption that people with intellectual disabilities are capable of participation in all aspects of life by focusing on abilities & treating disabilities as differences, rather than limitations. The purpose of SOAZ is to empower children & adults with intellectual disabilities to live healthy, fulfilling & meaningful lives. We realize our vision of acceptance & inclusion by engaging people of all ages & abilities through health, art, leadership & advocacy programs, as well as our mission to provide year-round sports training & athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-style sports for children & adults with intellectual disabilities, giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy & participate in a sharing of gifts, skills & friendship with their families, other Special Olympics athletes & the community.

One common perception of Special Olympics is that it is a sporting event that happens every few years in the United States for children with intellectual &/or developmental disabilities (I/DD). In Arizona, the first competition consisted of a one-day Track & Field event with 100 athletes & 20 volunteers & today has grown to 20 sports, 675 area competitions, & 4 statewide competitions for 21,461 athletes & 24,743 Class A volunteers annually. Special Olympics Arizona also provides access to comprehensive inclusive health programs & education, inclusive 21st-century STEM initiatives including art, music & esports, as well as building a coalition of leaders through inclusive advocacy programs & activities for people with disabilities. Special Olympics Arizona is more than just sports, it's a movement of inclusion for people of all abilities to speak up for themselves, make their voices heard & views known, organize to fight against discrimination, & make decisions for themselves throughout their life span. We work to realize founder Eunice Kennedy Shriver's vision: to improve the lives of people with intellectual disabilities everywhere, &, in turn, transform the lives of everyone they touch - building a better, more accepting world for all of us.

Special Olympics Arizona offers individual & team sports which provide meaningful training & competition opportunities for persons with I/DD, including age-appropriate and low motor activities. Athletes can compete at a variety of levels that accommodate a diverse range of abilities. In addition, athletes can choose to compete within the Special Olympics Unified Sports® program, which brings together athletes with & without disabilities of similar age & athletic ability to train & compete on the same sports teams. All players compete alongside one another, each in a meaningful & integral role on the Unified Sports team. Having sport in common is one way that preconceptions & false ideas are swept away & people with I/DD can feel empowered to become self-advocates demanding a revolution of inclusion.

While Unified Sports engages people of all ages & abilities, SOAZ leverages its community partners & leaders to grow advocacy & leadership skills for young people with disabilities statewide to help build inclusive school environments & communities throughout Arizona. Through Unified Champion Schools, young people with & without I/DD are activated to develop school communities where all students are agents of change - fostering respect, dignity & advocacy for people with I/DD by utilizing the programs & initiatives of Special Olympics. The Unified Champion Schools® approach incorporates three pillars of Special Olympics programs including: Unified Sports®, Inclusive Youth Leadership, & Whole School Engagement, while enhancing the youth experience & empowering them to be agents of change in their school & local communities. Inclusive Youth Leadership programming gives students with & without I/DD the opportunity to participate in leadership roles that empowers their entire school & nearby communities, spreading the mission of Special Olympics & fostering inclusion for all. Students lead socially inclusive activities on campus, host disability awareness campaigns & pep rallies celebrating self-advocacy & inclusion, run for student government inclusion representative positions, play music together through the Unified Ukulele program, facilitate fundraisers to support inclusive school-based programming, & join Unified Art contests that engage all students on & off campus. With your support, SOAZ will be able to engage 300 youth and adults with & without I/DD through Unified Champion School programming and Unified Sports as part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition.

Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) continues to offer high-quality, innovative programs that break down barriers of exclusion & facilitate best practices to engage people of all ages & abilities to become powerful self-advocates. The Athlete Input Council is a coalition of empowered individuals with I/DD who advocate for themselves & their peers by giving valuable feedback on SOAZ programming which allows SOAZ to strategize long-term, high-quality programming. The SOAZ State Youth Activation Committee (State YAC) is another inspiring committee of inclusion-centered difference makers who support school-based Unified programming at the state level by developing strategies, leading initiatives, & organizing events that promote the respect, inclusion, & acceptance of all people, regardless of abilities. One of the newest activities within Unified Champion Schools' programming is Unified Arts, which provides individuals with & without intellectual disabilities an opportunity to come together in an inclusive environment in which everyone can express themselves creatively through music, esports, robotics, photography, & art contests. Unified Arts was originally a concept given to SOAZ from a State YAC member who has now become a Special Education Teacher incorporating Unified Arts into her curriculum. SOAZ empowers athletes & Unified partners to join the Athlete Input Council, the State YAC and also offers opportunities to serve as a valuable member on the SOAZ Board of Directors.

The SOAZ Board of Directors is inclusive & meets bi-monthly to address programs, finances, & the ongoing functionality, sustainability, & overall support for the movement. Current Board Officers include: Casey Strunk, Board Chair, Jim Pitman, Treasurer, Dr. Rena Szabo, Health Committee Chair, Chas Harvick, Executive Committee at Large, & David Funkhouser, Engagement Committee Chair. 2) Describe in detail previous work & success in community coalition building around a specific topic. How did you engage the community, what type of work was done, what communities were impacted, & what did you learn in those efforts? Is the community coalition still in place?

Inclusion means understanding the relationship between the way people function & how they participate in society, as well as making sure everyone is able to participate in every aspect of life to the best of their abilities & desires. To prevent illness & promote healthy behaviors & safety for people with disabilities, Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) has a commitment to disability inclusion in public health programs, working to eliminate barriers to health care & improve the ability to get routine preventive services.

SOAZ wanted to ensure people with I/DD had access to quality, inclusive health screenings, follow-up care, resources, education, & programs that holistically supports the health & well-being of all people. To get started on building out a comprehensive approach to inclusive health, SOAZ focused on the holistic health & well-being of the athletes that is supported through different initiatives in support of a driven coalition of self-advocates for inclusive health, starting with Healthy Athletes. Healthy Athletes enhances the well-being & quality of life for people with I/DD by offering free health screenings & education in eight disciplines at sports competitions. During a Healthy Athletes event, people with I/DD receive a variety of services in a welcoming, fun environment & screenings include: Health Promotion (health/lifestyle education), Healthy Hearing (audiology), Opening Eyes (optometry), Special Smiles (dentistry), Fit Feet (podiatry), FUNFitness (physical therapy), & Strong Minds (mental health), and Medfest (sports physical).

With being able to screen people with I/DD, SOAZ was able to identify challenges around ones physical & mental health that could be addressed. SOAZ leaned on its community advocates to build out a Health Leadership Committee that meets quarterly to focus on enhancing access to high-quality inclusive health screenings & follow-up care. Comprised of over 50 health & medical professionals operating on a pro bono basis, this committee worked collaboratively with SOAZ staff to help develop a cooperative of resources for athlete health care & focused on goals surrounding medical advisory/screenings, public policy, fitness & wellness, & athlete leadership in health. Athlete leaders lead health initiatives at the ground level by becoming Health Messengers, a group of individuals with I/DD advocate for the health & well-being for themselves & their peers by sharing tips, statistics, program resources, speak to health professionals, & recruit other athletes to live healthier lives. With a comprehensive approach to a shared vision, this committee has been able to elevate access for people with I/DD to continue to ensure resources through a provider directory, on-going access to quality screenings & follow-up care.

Furthermore, SOAZ promotes health & wellness through Unified fitness & health education for people with & without I/DD. The Healthy LEAP into Fitness program allows SOAZ athletes & partners to experience a heightened social engagement & better emotional wellbeing as a byproduct of the inclusive & Unified nature of this program. Healthy LEAP into Fitness is modeled to include a health and wellness lesson, an educational activity, & a group workout provided by SOAZ inclusive fitness professionals through digital platforms SOAZconnected and on our website. Healthy LEAP into Fitness is comprised of four pillars of health: emotional, nutritional, physical, & social that are each comprised of three lessons that can be taught in an eight-week format as a team. Healthy LEAP into Fitness encourages learning together in an inclusive environment and provides the tools to go from education to real-life application that empower people with I/DD to stay active & live healthy lifestyles.

Special Olympics Arizona had a vision to ensure people with I/DD had access to inclusive health screenings, follow-up care, resources, & education that holistically supports the health & well-being of all people & all abilities. Special Olympics Arizona was able to join forces with local community collaborators to address these challenges, break down barriers to inclusive health services & programs, challenge misperceptions, eliminate stigma, & improve the health of people with ID. SOAZ learned very quickly to rely heavily on those who are in the field & can help support similar initiatives to grow common goals & shared visions. All of Special Olympics Arizona's programs require the support of community partners who are willing to be champions of Special Olympics in order for our programs to be successful. Healthy Athletes collaborates with a variety of organizations, physicians, & local medical professionals in order to ensure the quality of all health screenings, along with many individual physicians, including local medical professionals. For instance, through these partnerships, doctors & medical students were able to provide valuable in-kind services by examining athletes, providing expertise in program oversight & recruiting new medical volunteers, all of which would not be possible without collaboration. It is because of the collaborative approach taken, SOAZ was able to provide comprehensive, inclusive health programs & activities.

To this day, Healthy Athletes, Healthy LEAP into Fitness, & the Health Leadership Committee are still in place with growing participation & continue to expand its reach to support the health of people with I/DD, including new initiatives like Unified Hiking, Sex Education & Healthy Relationships, & virtual experiences & interactions through SOAZconnected. It is through partnerships with fitness & wellness programs, as well as healthcare providers & other local organizations, people with I/DD are able to get the resources & services they need to stay healthy. Together, we are working toward a future in which all children & adults with ID have the ability to get healthcare services throughout their lives & are included in programs that promote long-term health.

3) Describe in detail how developing a self-advocacy community coalition will be undertaken in year one. What activities will be planned with & for the self-advocacy coalition? What will be implemented for the self-advocacy community coalition to maintain engagement & growth through the first year?

Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) will develop a SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition in one year by strategically planning & orchestrating concepts with measurable outcomes & objectives through a systematic, collaborative approach. SOAZ would facilitate virtual & in-person meetings & provide high-level support that empowers change at the grassroots level. The overarching goal is to develop an all-inclusive leadership network through a streamlined, structured SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition that wholly empowers youth & adults with and without I/DD statewide to become self-advocates, take on leadership opportunities, and make their voices heard in the community.

Internally, staff roles, tasks, & expectations will be determined with reoccurring meetings to revisit objectives & address goal achievement regarding program implementation. Special Olympics Arizona will continue to recruit new, passionate advocates for inclusion to join in current & upcoming programs, activities, trainings, & committees that promote self-advocacy, unity, & acceptance for all people. Annually, Special Olympics Arizona confirms participation in all competitions, events, & activities & evaluates the success of the program. To ensure recruitment & retention for these powerful opportunities, Special Olympics Arizona will support its area staff who are embedded in communities to directly support programmatic implementation & recruit new schools & community members into the movement. Furthermore, these Area Directors help get schools & community teams to expand their involvement beyond one season to ensure athletes can compete in a variety of sports, learn to become powerful advocates through self-advocacy trainings, & showcase their talents through a variety of programs beyond sports. Special Olympics Arizona Support Programs staff are devoted to assist with recruitment, retention, & sustainable programmatic structures & implementation. With this collaborative approach, Special Olympics Arizona ensures that there is an abundance of support to address & resolve any presented issues & further engage more leaders into the movement.

Special Olympics Arizona currently utilizes a variety of technology to promote & facilitate programs & will ensure that all advocates have the assistive technology required to be successful. SOAZconnected will also present itself as part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition to ensure access & inclusion through virtual interactions & experiences for people of all ages, abilities, & interests. As part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition, people with I/DD will be in the forefront of the Special Olympics movement as the agents of change. With SOAZconnected offering engagement strategies to recruit, communicate, & market inclusion virtually, SOAZ would ensure direct roles & responsibilities correlating with a virtual strategy that supports an overarching goal of self-advocacy & access to a platform to share their voice.

Special Olympics Arizona also supports the growth & development of youth leaders with & without intellectual & developmental disabilities through state-level committees. Youth leaders with & without intellectual disabilities join together to form a state-level cohort to help build sustainable, scalable projects & programs that can be shared & implemented at all schools to promote inclusion through Special Olympics Arizona Unified Champion Schools programming. Nearly all State Youth Activation Committee (YAC) members participate in Unified Clubs on their campus & have been elevated to a position on the State Youth Activation Committee to serve as high-level youth leaders & advocates. State Youth Activation Committee members also receive special opportunities to advocate & share their voice by being invited as honored guests to Special Olympics Arizona events, fundraisers, competitions, & activities. They also help plan, facilitate, & serve events for peers & community leaders throughout the year. SOAZ staff focused on inclusive youth leadership within schools will support the State YAC in terms of providing overarching structure, recruitment, resources, & support in promoting inclusion on & off campus. SOAZ will establish a structure for the State YAC to define youth roles including President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, & Social Strategists. This is to give youth a true opportunity for leadership & self-advocacy on a statewide level. With SOAZ's backing, the State YAC will lead specific initiatives regarding hosting the Spread the Word Inclusion campaign, promoting the Minute That Matters school fundraiser for inclusion, challenging classmates through SOAZconnected health & art challenges, helping to facilitate local SOAZ events & competitions, & lead the revolution of inclusion one voice at a time. SOAZ will also work with State YAC & Unified Champion Schools to pilot the Student Council Inclusion Representatives into a minimum of five schools in the 2020-2021 school year. SOAZ staff will provide overarching support & resources while youth would be self-advocating & establishing systematic change within schools by ensuring the 2020-2021 school year offers a student council campaign with Inclusion Representative positions to ensure long-term, sustainability & high-quality programming regardless of staff/coach turnover. Youth demand student council positions as a standard of excellence for transforming school cultures & maintained engagement & growth throughout the years.

Special Olympics Arizona will identify Special Olympics athletes (people with I/DD) & Unified partners (people without I/DD) who want to become Global and/or Health Messengers & invite them to move through the application & interview process. Global Messengers and Health Messengers are embedded into SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition & embody a high standard of excellence & can serve on a state or international level. SOAZ Health and Global Messengers are asked to speak at SOAZ events & competitions, engage in SOAZconnected experiences & virtual interactions, attend various committee meetings including the Board of Directors, Health Leadership Committee, & the Athlete Input Council, & are seen as the leaders taking charge of the inclusion revolution. Global & State Health Messengers play a vital role in the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition as it serves as a high, elevated position that empowers more people to be socially responsible within their businesses, schools & communities.

Special Olympics Arizona wants to ensure people with I/DD have the opportunity share their voice & demand equal access & inclusion for people with disabilities living in Arizona. SOAZ will engage the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition to ensure people with I/DD serve as leaders advocating for inclusivity in health, sports, education, arts, & employment at Capitol Hill Day in Washington, D.C. & the SOAZ Capitol Lawn Day in Phoenix, Arizona in February 2021. The SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition would play a vital role in planning for & facilitating meetings with legislatures locally & showcasing the abilities of people with I/DD & the needed support for systematic change to maintain engagement & growth for true unity & acceptance. The SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition would establish true leadership & self-advocacy for people with I/DD at these events but also gives a platform to share their opinions & needs by serving on the SOAZ Board of Directors.

4) What strategies will be used to conduct outreach to unserved & underserved communities? What specific communities will be targeted?

Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) conducts outreach to unserved & underserved communities through direct relationships & local networks. SOAZ staff meet regularly with youth & adults with & without I/DD who serve on area Athlete Input Councils, State YAC, & Unified Clubs to discuss projects, review objectives, address goal achievement, & ensure input is being received & applied to better the movement of inclusion through Special Olympics Unified programs.

Special Olympics Arizona also strategically utilizes a variety of technology for outreach, communication, & to promote & facilitate programs. With the launch of SOAZconnected, SOAZ will be able to conduct outreach to unserved & underserved communities through interactive, virtual engagement opportunities in health & wellness, sports & fitness, arts, & education. With SOAZconnected offering engagement strategies to recruit, communicate, & market inclusion virtually, SOAZ would ensure direct roles & responsibilities within the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition which correlate with a virtual strategy that supports an overarching goal of self-advocacy & access to a platform to share their voice. SOAZ also utilizes other social media strategies through Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and YouTube that help raise awareness for events & competitions & the ability to provide communication, outreach, & virtual connectivity.

SOAZ uses virtual platforms like Zoom, Microsoft Teams, & Basecamp to host meetings, share resources, provide support & camaraderie, that help others to engage unserved & underserved communities statewide. SOAZ will work with its community partners to overcome barriers that may present challenges with serving these communities & ensuring assistive technology & resources are available for all to be included.

5) What strategies will be used to work with, strengthen & include existing self-advocacy groups into this project?

Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) thrives on collaboration & finds leveraging current partners into the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition will provide the highest quality experience & programming for people with I/DD in Arizona. SOAZ will work with Goodwill to provide employment & job training for people with I/DD. Goodwill will work with SOAZ to help all job seekers, regardless of their ability, work history, or background, access the training & support they need to grow their careers & support their families.

In a time when our world is mired in exclusion, we need champions of inclusion. SOAZ will work with Best Buddies Arizona to promote one-to-one friendship opportunities & leadership development in local schools. In many of the nearly 50 middle school, high school, & college Best Buddies chapters statewide, Spread the Word has become an integral part of the Best Buddies' mission. This year, Spread the Word: Inclusion supporters — including the Golisano Foundation & thousands of schools around the nation — have activated their communities to engage around the day with pledge events. With Best Buddies embedded into many of the same schools that work with SOAZ & a shared vision of inclusion & advocacy, SOAZ will continue to foster this relationship & ensure systematic collaboration as part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition.

SOAZ will work with the Arizona Virtual Youth Leadership Forum (AVYLF), a virtual space created for youth participants, known as Delegates, from across the great state of Arizona, to converge & connect online for the same curriculum, engaging activities, guest presentations, & group dynamics traditionally shared in person. AVYLF will help complete a personal discovery curriculum specifically for those who have been accepted to AVYLF and are a part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition. Each plan is designed to raise self-awareness & lead to development of a person-centered plan, with goals, steps, & accountability measures, alongside personalized mentorship in regard to their Plan, for one year following graduation from AVYLF.

Special Olympics Arizona will also continue to collaborate with numerous schools & local law enforcement agencies throughout the state to help bridge the gap, breakdown stigmas, & celebrate diversity in schools & communities throughout Arizona. Law enforcement agencies continue to raise awareness & funds for inclusion through the Law Enforcement Torch Run (LETR) & Minute That Matters school-based, 60-second fundraising initiative that engages the entire school. School Resource Officers (SROs) empower youth to leave behind preconceived notions & stigmas to celebrate each other's differences. As part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition, LETR, Student Councils, Unified Clubs, & State YAC members will play a vital role in growing Unified Champion Schools programming & creating sustainable practices for future generations.

6) How will individual self-advocates voices be part of this project & balanced with collaborators?

Special Olympics Arizona consistently solicits input from those who are leading Unified programmatic change & immediately applies feedback to continue to grow quality & sustainable programs. The Athlete Input Council was formed specifically to give self-advocates the platform to share their voice & views & has grown into a statewide initiative as part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition. The State YAC is also a coalition of young people with & without I/DD advocating for inclusion on & off school campuses. State YAC members are constantly sharing ideas & concepts with SOAZ that would help streamline services more efficiently & systematically to help with long-term engagement. As ideas are produced & concepts are backed, SOAZ is able to connect collaborators to support State YAC & AIC members' initiatives & work together to build a community coalition. SOAZ will rely heavily on its community partners including Best Buddies, AVYLF, the AIA, and hundreds of schools and programs statewide who empower youth and adults of all abilities to share their voice. Best Buddies hosts a community walk and numerous volunteer-driven events where people can advocate for inclusion and share their voice. AVYLF also helps share resources through presentations by community leaders, advocates, and numerous other professional role models who have disabilities. Each presentation highlights an area of impact for youth as they transition to adulthood and will be an incredible resource for the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition. Those serving on the SOAZ Board of Directors also play a vital role in sharing feedback & being a voice for themselves but also the entire community of people living throughout Arizona in desperate need of support & engagement. SOAZ also receives unique access to self-advocates' voices' through polling, surveying, & interactions virtually & in-person to identify opportunities for improvement & expansion. SOAZconnected & other social media platforms serve as tools to solicit feedback, share voices, & provide insights that allow for change driven by the voice of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition.

- 7) List who are the community partners that will be a part of this grant. Also denote who will be funded & the role they will be engaged in. Ensure Letters of Support are included in the grant application.

Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) engages youth with & without disabilities in over 250 Arizona schools, nearly 30 of which have achieved national recognition for offering comprehensive inclusive programming that empower young people to be self-advocates & agents of change. SOAZ will leverage its relationships within schools & create individualized work plans to help expand & sustain Unified Champion Schools programming within their school district including inclusive youth leadership, whole school engagement, & Unified Sports.

Special Olympics Arizona has been partnering with the Arizona Interscholastic Association since 2011 to provide Unified Sports through a competitive interscholastic model. During this reporting period, at the state level, an athlete (person with I/DD) & Unified partner (person without I/DD) are invited to be part of the AIA Student Leadership Advisory Committee (SLAC) to join representatives from all AIA conferences throughout the state. The SLAC hosts a statewide Youth Conference each year to train approximately 500 student leaders on how to improve leadership skills on their campuses, including through Unified programs. SOAZ invites athlete leaders & partners from across the state to participate in the Unified Sports session of the conference, who help to lead the session & educate students on all things Unified. The National Federation of State High School Association (NFHS) also hosts a Student Leadership Summit. SOAZ invites a Unified pair to this summit each year where they learn about relevant & contemporary issues, hone their leadership skills, & realize the privilege & power of their influence in their school, community, & state. This Unified pair also serves on the State YAC & is engaged in the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition.

Special Olympics Arizona will work collaboratively with community partners as part of this grant. Best Buddies continues to excel in offering inclusive youth leadership initiatives that align with the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition & will be vital in program expansion & offering school-based inclusive programs & activities, including the Spread the Word Inclusion campaign & inclusive student body clubs on campuses throughout Arizona.

SOAZ will work with the Arizona Virtual Youth Leadership Forum (AVYLF) to converge & connect online for the same curriculum, engaging activities, guest presentations, & group dynamics traditionally shared in person, at Arizona Youth Leadership Forum (AZYLF). AVYLF will help complete a personal discovery curriculum for those who have been accepted to AVYLF designed to raise self-awareness & lead to development of a person-centered plan, with goals, steps, & accountability measures, alongside personalized mentorship in regard to their plan, for one year following graduation from AVYLF.

8) What steps will be taken to address program barriers, including any problems with outreach, community coalition building, recruitment of self-advocates & community partners & other tasks

Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) works diligently to ensure any barriers to access are only temporary & can be overcome with a strategic approach to program implementation & opportunities offered statewide for people with intellectual &/or developmental disabilities. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, which created many challenges with in-person gatherings, SOAZ cancelled all in-person events & competitions through June 2020 to ensure the safety & well-being of our athletes & all the fans in the stands who love cheering them on. This resulted in over 100 Special Olympics event cancellations, 12,269 Special Olympics athletes (people with disabilities) & Unified partners (people without disabilities) denied access to in-person athletic events, 1,855 cancelled inclusive health screenings, & over $500,000.00 in profit loss & support. The COVID-19 crisis created numerous challenges with outreach & recruitment as roles, scheduling, & availability of our community have all changed dramatically.

Furthermore, while SOAZ has spent nearly 50 years fighting exclusion, the COVID-19 pandemic became one of the scariest times in our athletes' lives as they are more excluded now than ever before. To address barriers of extreme isolation for people with disabilities during the COVID-19 pandemic & going forward, SOAZ launched a digital strategy, SOAZconnected, designed to promote the physical, emotional, & social well-being of our athletes, their families, & all members of our community through interactive, virtual engagement opportunities in health & wellness, sports & fitness, arts, & education. With the help of our community partners, SOAZconnected was able to provide a revolutionary & innovative solution to the barrier of isolation while also establishing a supportive & empowering online community which gives people with disabilities a platform to share their voice. The Phoenix Suns joined SOAZconnected & provided co-branded videos of Suns players stretching, practicing skills, & staying active during quarantine. Special Olympics Arizona athletes created instructional videos that were used to promote a virtual Dance Challenge that raises funds & awareness for inclusion. Korg Education has begun reinventing its in-person inclusive music program to an online platform which allows people of all ages & abilities to learn how to play the ukulele & be able to teach others in-person or virtually. Community volunteers have been able to virtually support SOAZ through online experiences, classes, & tutorials for healthy living during the COVID-19 pandemic. With this collaborative approach, Special Olympics Arizona ensures that there is an abundance of support to address & resolve any presented issues. There are many who help make inclusion possible during uncertain times & SOAZ is incredibly grateful for its established partners & donors who share the mission of inclusion & acceptance for people with disabilities.

SOAZ will continue to utilize SOAZconnected as a tool for recruitment of self-advocates & community partners, a resource that builds a sense of community, & a source for virtual, inclusive engagement for all people. In addition to SOAZconnected, SOAZ will foster its relationships through its Area Directors, who are embedded in communities statewide & directly supports program implementation. Area Directors also recruit new schools & community teams into the movement. SOAZ has a devoted team of support programs staff who assist with recruitment, retention, & sustainable programmatic structures & implementation. Special Olympics Arizona works with its development team to establish diversity in funding sources from financial backing, in-kind support, & volunteer support from the community which may help overcome barriers like program implementation or other tasks/project concerns.

9) If funding is available for a second year, briefly describe what will be undertaken to sustain a self-advocacy community coalition & what new activities will be implemented.

Assuming funding is available for a second year, SOAZ would ensure quality & continued growth in the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition. In the first year, SOAZ would engage 300 youth & adults with & without I/DD & in a second year, would grow engagement to 400 youth & adults eagerly committed to the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition. In the first year, SOAZ will recruit a minimum of 2 Unified pairs (one person with I/DD & one without I/DD) from each area of the state to ensure the State YAC has local representation at a state-level. In a second year, SOAZ will recruit an additional Unified pair from each of the six SOAZ regional areas totaling a minimum of 30 new young people with & without I/DD as part of the State YAC & SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition. Furthermore, SOAZ will pilot the Inclusion Representative position into 5 Unified Champion Schools in the first year & by the second year, would be able to open up the position to all Unified Champion Schools in Arizona, which directly addresses continued engagement & sustainability regardless of staff transition, teacher turnover, or changes in high-level school district leadership. Young people with I/DD will supported virtually during the first year through the Arizona Virtual Youth Leadership Forum (AVYLF) with a goal to transition back to in-person & virtual engagement strategies in the second year. Those involved in AVYLF will also be able to serve on the State YAC & SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition. In terms of sustainability & challenges with funding, SOAZ will continue to empower self-sustainability through local fundraising initiatives, including the Minute That Matters & piloting virtual fundraising initiatives like the #SOAZDanceChallenge. In a second year, SOAZ would be able to further pilot new & expanding fundraising initiatives that by a third year, would allow all 250 Unified Champion Schools access to programs, activities, resources, & tools that ensure entire self-sustainability & inclusive access for people with & without I/DD throughout Arizona.

Evaluation

1) Describe what you hope to achieve at the end of year 1.

Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) will develop a SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition in one year by strategically planning & orchestrating concepts with measurable outcomes & objectives through a systematic, collaborative approach. SOAZ would facilitate virtual & in-person meetings & provide high-level support that empowers change at the grassroots level. The overarching goal is to develop an all-inclusive leadership network through a streamlined, structured SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition that wholly empowers youth & adults with and without I/DD statewide to become self-advocates, take on leadership opportunities, and make their voices heard in the community.

2) What are the key benchmark measurements (data points) that will be used to measure the grant objective is being met by the end of year 1?

As part of the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition, by the end of year 1, SOAZ will:

- Engage 300 youth & adults with & without I/DD
- Recruit a minimum of two Unified pairs (one person with I/DD & one without I/DD) from each of the six SOAZ geographical areas to sit on the State YAC
- Pilot the Inclusion Representative Student Council position into 5 Unified Champion Schools
- Host 200 school events that promote inclusion & empower young people to share their voice including Spread the Word Inclusion campaign, Minute That Matters fundraisers, & school pep rallies & assemblies.
- Support 75 inclusive school-based, youth-driven clubs throughout Arizona
- Empower 50 youth & adults with & without I/DD at SOAZ Capitol Lawn Day & Capitol Hill Day who can share their voice with prestigious legislatures
- Activate a minimum of 5 people with I/DD as State Health Messengers

3) How will self-advocates & community partners involvement & feedback be used through the evaluation process?

SOAZ solicits feedback & involvement from community partners & the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition through the Athlete Input Council & State YAC meetings in the form of regular meetings, surveys, polls, & interviews. This feedback is immediately applied as part of the evaluation process & goals for continued engagement.

4) If barriers are encountered, how will discussion of possible changes in program design take place?

If barriers are encountered, SOAZ will discuss possible changes internally with Senior Leadership as a first step. With their guidance, SOAZ will be able to solicit feedback from the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition & recommendations for next steps. SOAZ will also leverage its network of community partners & continually discuss what is & is not working to be sure to communicate & collaborate on shared initiatives to ensure high-quality programming for people with I/DD.

RE: ADDPC Building a Self-Advocacy Coalition

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to write a letter in support of Special Olympics Arizona's application to the Arizona Developmental Disabilities Planning Council for self-advocacy programming. The Arizona Interscholastic Association (AIA) formally partners with SOAZ to deliver inclusive sports and youth leadership programming to high school-aged athletes with and without intellectual disabilities. As an organization, we have worked closely with SOAZ and have seen firsthand the impact they are making in the state of Arizona.

The AIA's Student Leadership Advisory Committee (SLAC) works to establish an inclusive and encouraging atmosphere for all by empowering students to develop as leaders and advocates for their communities and supporting the community our students participate in one activity at a time. The AIA is excited to continue expanding our partnership with SOAZ to provide leadership development opportunities for high school students across Arizona through initiatives such as the AIA's annual Student Leadership Conference, where the Special Olympics athlete and Unified partner serving on the SLAC will be able to provide training and resources to hundreds of other student leaders about Unified programming and inclusivity on high school campuses statewide.

By securing funding from the ADDPC for self-advocacy programs, SOAZ will be able to continue serving people of all ages and abilities throughout the state of Arizona through inclusive leadership development programs, self-advocacy campaigns, and ongoing leadership opportunities. The AIA strongly supports this grant request and congratulates SOAZ as a truly outstanding organization and partner.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of Best Buddies in Arizona, it is my pleasure to write a letter in support of Special Olympics Arizona's application to the Arizona Developmental Disabilities Planning Council for self-advocacy programming. Like SOAZ, Best Buddies works to promote inclusion through programs that empower the special abilities of people with disabilities by helping them form meaningful friendships with their peers, secure successful jobs, live independently, improve public speaking, self-advocacy and communication skills, and feel valued by society. Best Buddies in Arizona has worked with Special Olympics Arizona and have seen the impact they are making statewide to promote inclusion through their initiatives and programs.

Best Buddies in Arizona and Special Olympics Arizona have formed a unique partnership to combine resources in order to further carry out the aligning goals of both organizations of inclusion, respect and one-to-one friendships for people with and without intellectual and/or developmental disabilities. Special Olympics Arizona and Best Buddies in Arizona both strive to motivate student leaders to gain respect and have one-to-one friendships between students with and without disabilities. Combining models for inclusive leadership training, clubs, and initiatives in schools, together we work to further opportunities for students of all abilities to gain friendships, build valuable life skills, and advocate together for a more inclusive future.

RE: ADDPC Building a Self-Advocacy Coalition

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my honor to write a letter in support of Special Olympics Arizona's proposal to the Arizona Developmental Disabilities Planning Council. I have personally been involved with Special Olympics Arizona's inclusive, school-based programs for several years and continue to be impressed by the impact their inclusive initiatives make on the lives of the students (and teachers, like myself) that participate.

At Sunnyslope High School, Special Olympics Arizona programs are a vital part of our efforts to make our campus a respectful and inclusive place for students of all abilities. As a National Banner Unified Champion School, we participate in all three pillars of Special Olympics' Unified Champion Schools, which includes Unified Sports, Inclusive Youth Leadership, and Whole School Engagement. Our student leaders play a big role in planning, promoting, and participating in inclusive opportunities on campus. Using guidelines for Unified inclusive leadership from Special Olympics Arizona, we have a Special Olympics athlete on our student council who plays an active role in ensuring our campus celebrates all abilities in everything that we do and offer for our students.

Sunnyslope High School is proud to be a part of the movement of inclusion with Special Olympics Arizona and looks forward to many more years of inclusive programming and opportunities for self-advocacy and inclusive leadership. We fully support their proposal to the ADDPC in support of self-advocacy building and can't wait to see the impact of expanded opportunities for inclusive leadership as the movement continues to spread throughout Arizona.

Printing: $15,000- Athlete and youth leadership manuals, Unified Clubs kits, Disability Awareness month kits, banners, t-shirts, State YAC and AIC blazers, and other printed materials. Schools receive Generation Unified Kits in the Fall 2020 and Spread the Word Inclusion Kits in Spring 2021 which are filled with resources, giveaways, flyers, stickers, materials, and decals that youth with and without I/DD can share with students throughout their schools and communities. These resources are vital to the program and promotes inclusion and acceptance for the SOAZ Self-Advocacy Coalition.

Meetings and conferences include both local events and national events, such as, Special Olympics Unified Training and LETR Training and Global Health Messenger Training in Washington DC. Mileage reimbursement for self-advocates, mentors, athletes and youth leaders to travel to SOAZ meetings, trainings, and events across the state at $.50 per mile. SOAZ is requesting $9,750.00 and will match $3,570.00 of travel expenses.

75 hotel rooms at $100.00 (2 people/room) x 3 meals/person/day ($5/meal) (150 people x 1 day)
= $9,750.00 + average mileage reimbursement and rentals = $3,570.00

Rent or Cost of Space:

Total: $17,450.00

Facility costs include the use of the event space, tables, chairs, security, and audio/visual equipment rental at SOAZ self-advocacy events. Include information showing that school facility rentals are averaged based on dollar listing on school website. Fees are confirmed based on previous years' spending and projected expenses into 2020-2021. SOAZ is requesting $8,000.00, will match $4,200.00, and will seek $5,250.00 in-kind for facility space.

Contracted Services/Professional Services:

Total: $0.00

SOAZ will use local networks and volunteers to assist in the implementation of the self-advocacy programs. Special Olympics Arizona participates in an annual evaluation of Unified Champion Schools as required by the U.S. Department of Education and conducted by the Center for Social Development and Education at the University of Massachusetts Boston and provided at no direct cost to Special Olympics Arizona. Using this data, SOAZ is able to quantitatively and qualitatively measure both the success and shortcomings, if any, of the program. Administrative/Indirect Costs:

Total: $10,000.00

Applicant's Qualifications Questionnaire

- 1) The mission of Special Olympics Arizona (SOAZ) is to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy and participate in a sharing of gifts, skills, and friendship with their families, other Special Olympics athletes and the community.

When asked, thousands of people worldwide are familiar with Special Olympics, but many don't realize that Special Olympics started as a simple day camp in 1962. Over fifty years later, Special Olympics has become the largest sports and healthcare organization in the world for people with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities (I/DD). Special Olympics has grown into a worldwide inclusive movement by empowering people of all ages and ability levels through inclusive sports, arts, health, and school programs, including opportunities for online engagement. SOAZ was established in 1975. The first SOAZ competition consisted of a one-day track and field event with 100 athletes and 20 volunteers, but has since grown to mirror the expansion of Special Olympics' vision for an inclusive world within our own Arizona communities.

SOAZ works to ensure access to quality, inclusive programs for all and will continue to expand its reach to engage people with I/DD (athletes) and people without I/DD (Unified partners) through Unified programs. SOAZ's Unified programs seek to impact the whole community by providing opportunities for individuals with and without I/DD to come together, learning from one another as they participate side by side on sports teams, in clubs, on campus, and throughout their communities. This approach breaks down stereotypes, fear, and barriers to participation, creating a more inclusive, respectful, and accepting world for everyone, despite differences. SOAZ's goal is to empower the over 180,000 Arizonans with I/DD to be healthy, productive, and respected members of society through SOAZ's year-round sports training and competitions, health initiatives, art curriculums, inclusive leadership opportunities, and school programs found statewide.

Since 1975, SOAZ has been addressing the need for people with I/DD to receive lifelong access through age-appropriate programs starting with Young Athletes (ages 2-7 ½) into Unified Champion Schools® (8-22) and adult Unified programs (22+) which includes through sports, health, arts, and inclusive leadership. SOAZ continues to engage communities year-round by hosting inclusive activities (including 20 sports, 675 area competitions, four statewide competitions, four art programs, and eight health screening disciplines) and empowering 21,461 athletes and 24,743 active volunteers annually. SOAZ accomplishments include providing over 19,000 free inclusive health screenings.

- 2) SOAZ embraced the initiative of inclusive programming early and absolutely. From the beginning, SOAZ leadership encouraged Special Olympics athletes (with disabilities), Unified partners (without disabilities), and community cohorts to approach unifying Arizona with creativity and innovation, empowering the 21,461 athletes in Arizona.

As Special Olympics leads the movement of inclusion, it has become a commitment to ensure that athletes have the opportunity to be included just like their peers in sports, health, arts, schools, clubs and also have opportunities to learn how to become influential self-advocates for inclusion and equality. During the 2020-2021 Special Olympics season, SOAZ will continue to empower its athletes through positions and initiatives that let their voices be heard, including:

- Built-in positions on boards and committees, including SOAZ's Board of Directors, SOAZ's state and area Athlete Leadership Coalition, the Arizona Interscholastic Association's Student Leadership Advisory Committee, State Youth Activation Committee, Health Leadership Committee, student councils at schools statewide, inclusive campus clubs, and more.
- Athlete-led initiatives and fundraisers including the global Spread the Word: Inclusion campaign, Minute that Matters 60-second fundraiser, inclusive art challenges, and virtual-based challenges and initiatives for all.
- Legislative work, including Capital Lawn Day in Arizona and national and local advocacy for inclusion and representation.

SOAZ has several years of experience, knowledge of best practices, dedicated staff, and an unparalleled commitment to support and lift the voices of individuals with developmental and/or intellectual disabilities statewide through opportunities for engagement, leadership, and advocacy.
